Sara—great to catch up just now. You will receive the most recent monitoring data tomorrow — as well as Dr. Sahu's proposed long term monitoring plan with the additional monitors. We look forward to our call on next Wednesday at 4 central. We are working with NDEQ on the root cause analysis of the foaming event and will also send that analysis to you on this Friday

Bill: If we can have the monitoring plan by COB this Thursday, we can set up a call for next Wednesday (9/5). The earliest we can be available is 4 CST. If that time works for your team, I can send around the call-in information.

We did not receive monitoring data yesterday. Please forward to us as soon as possible. Also, if you have completed the root cause analysis for the state, please forward a copy to us as well.

Sara

Per your request—attached is a map illustrating the locations of the current five monitors on BOE's roof and on its fence line. I am working today with Dr. Sahu and Ted on our proposed, expanded long-term monitoring plan.

I plan to send you our proposed plan by COB this Thursday.

I thought it would be helpful to set up a status call with our two technical teams for the 5th-next Wednesday— in order to discuss BOE's monitoring proposal— as well as the monitoring data we have sent and will continue to be sending to EPA.

Please let me know your availability and preferences for a call.

Best, Bill
